Son of Man and Son of God

Who is Jesus – man or God? Sometimes in focusing on His divine teachings and the many miraculous signs He performed, we tend to overlook His involvement in the daily activities of life on earth. He walked to get where He was going and slept when He was tired. He cried with those who were sad and celebrated with those who were happy. He participated in social events, such as dinner parties and religious feasts. In fact, the first public demonstration of His deity by performing a miracle took place in the context of a wedding feast He was attending. He experienced what it means to be physically human.

Jesus is a unique blend of deity and humanity – God made into flesh. The Bread of Life became hungry (Matthew 4:2). The Light of the World was engulfed in darkness (Matthew 27:45). The Good Shepherd died as a sacrificial lamb (1 Corinthians 5:7). Jesus embodies the entire spectrum of life – physical and spiritual.

As His people created in His image, we too can embody the entire spectrum of life through Him. Those who are outwardly wasting away are being inwardly renewed every day (2 Corinthians 4:16). Those who are defiled by sin are made perfect and holy (Hebrews 10:14). Those who die live forever (John 11:25-26). In Him, we experience what it means to be spiritually divine.

Through Jesus – the Son of Man and Son of God – may we embrace the fullness of life, both now on earth and in the heavenly, eternal realm to come.

Jan Knox

...I am the resurrection and the life...
