Just One More Step

Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself.

Each day has enough trouble of its own.

Matthew 6:34

My son and I set out before sunrise to hike to the top of 13,161 foot Wheeler Peak, the highest point in New Mexico.

We parked his truck at the trailhead of the East Fork Trail. The sign pointing the route to Wheeler recorded the distance to the summit as 7.5 miles.

For a person who spends most of the year at about 700 feet above sea level, the air begins to get really thin at 11,000 feet. At that point, the focus of the hike begins to shift from the ultimate destination to the stretch of trail just ahead. From 12,000 feet onward, the only way to the top is to concentrate on taking one more step.

Recently I heard a good Christian sister say, "We're just taking it one day at a time." That sort of testimony in view of the struggles of life makes me think of a hike at altitude and of the Lord's instruction in the scripture above. For one thing, the journey to the summit depends entirely on the next step. And, living with a focus on the day the Lord has given us is precisely where He wants us.

Prayer for Today: O Lord, when the journey of life is difficult, give us the strength and the wisdom to live for you one step at a time. In Jesus' name. Amen.
